Description of the Organization

The Regional Council of Calabria region, is the representative legislative body of each Italian Region, according to the Italian Constitution, art. n.121. The Italian Regional Councils were established after 1970.

The Regional Council is an organ of the region that has legal personality, autonomous regulations, own budget and own staff, separate from those of the Regional Government.

In Italy, the Regional Councils are coordinated through the Conference of Presidents of Legislative Assemblies of the Regions and Autonomous Provinces.

Description of the your research interest

Doctor of Research (DPhil) in Spatial Planning, Temporary Research Fellow, and Adjunct Professor in urban planning. For a significant amount of time my research has been focused on spatial planning, with particular reference to the mitigation of seismic risk on an urban scale. In Regional Council, I'm official of the newly established Inter-regional Conference for the Messina Strait, which has the task of entering agreements to cultural and economic development, in the field of infrastructure, transport, environment, research and technological innovation, tourism, social policies in the Strait Area, between Reggio Calabria and Messina cities.
