Enough with the theory?!

- Let's have a look to practical aspects like:
- Where to find calls, are there differences with other HE proposals?
- How to join consortia, types of actions etc.
- Tips for successful participation

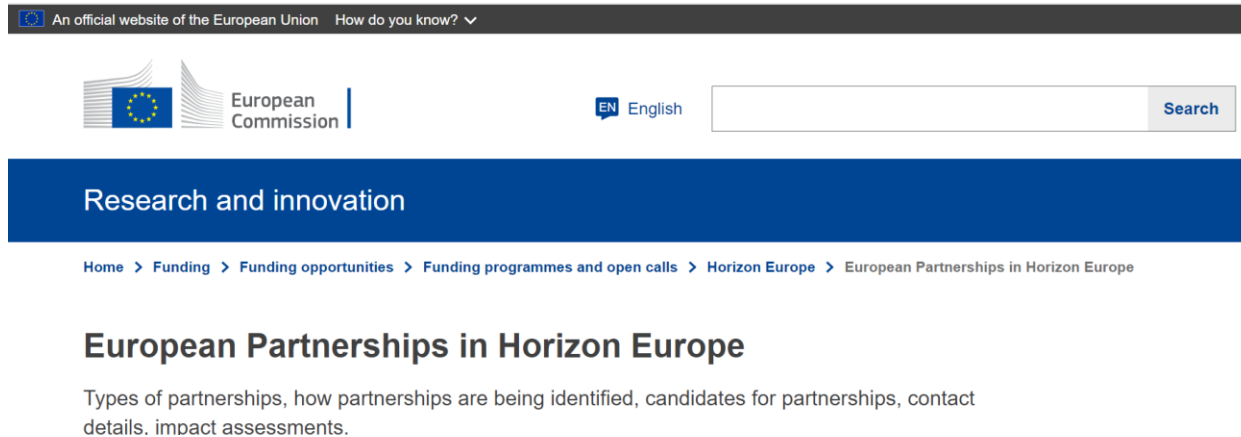

Remember what we said before?

- For European Partnerships, there is ...
 - not much ‘knowledge’ out there,
 - not easy to find actionable information about them, and hence...
 - not sufficient ‘collective’ know-how
- So exactly the opposite than other ‘frequently visited’ thematic calls of RIAs / IAs

The case of Cluster 1 on Health as an example

HORIZON-HLTH-2023-DISEASE- 3.06: Towards a European partnership on brain health

49

A European partnership on Brain Health⁷⁷ is expected in the second Strategic Plan of Horizon Europe.

CO-FUNDED
PARTNERSHIP

Single-stage

Action type: CSA

- It should ensure a broad geographical representation of European countries and plan for inclusion of all main related research initiatives, as well as key organisations and associations. In this way, the coordination action should reflect the ‘umbrella’ role of the future partnership.

Another example...

HORIZON-HLTH-2024-DISEASE- 3.12: Maintaining the European partnership for pandemic preparedness (CSA for Pandemic preparedness research)

The Partnership is expected to continue to build on existing pandemic preparedness networks, and work in synergy with the Health Emergency Preparedness and Response Authority (HERA).

Single-stage

Action type: CSA

CO-FUNDED

And so on...

HORIZON-HLTH-2023-DISEASE- P5: European Partnership on Rare Diseases

1-stage

Action type: Co-funded Partnership

HORIZON-HLTH-2024-DISEASE- P6: European Partnership: One Health Anti-Microbial Resistance

1-stage

Action type: Co-funded Partnership

HORIZON-HLTH-2023-CARE- P4: European Partnership on Personalized Medicine

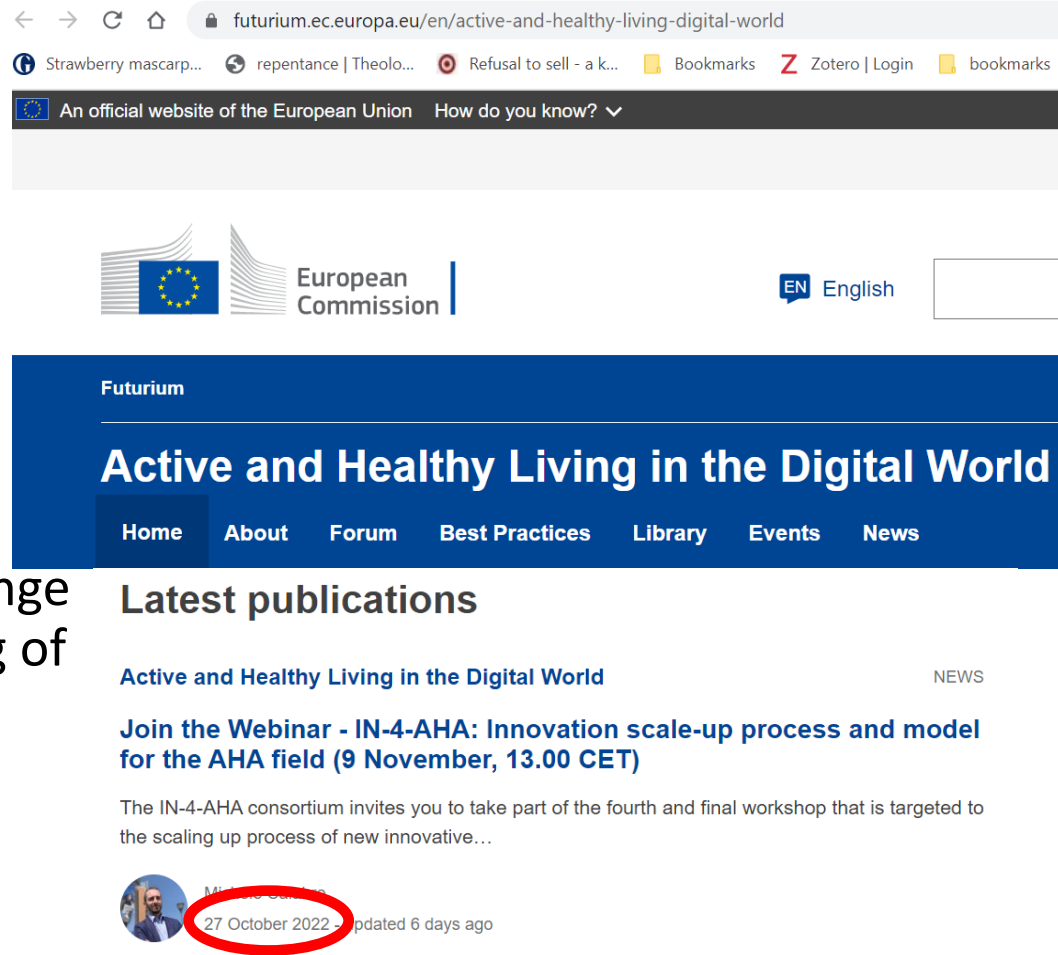

Single-stage

Action type: Co-funded Partnership

CO-FUNDED

Other examples...

- European Innovation Partnership on Active and Healthy Ageing ('EIP on AHA')
- Was the first EIP!
- Created back in 2011!
- (FP7 times...)
- Focuses on demographic change and active and healthy ageing of people in Europe

The screenshot shows a web browser displaying the website futurium.ec.europa.eu/en/active-and-healthy-living-digital-world. The page features the European Commission logo and the text "Futurium" and "Active and Healthy Living in the Digital World". A navigation menu includes "Home", "About", "Forum", "Best Practices", "Library", "Events", and "News". The main content area is titled "Latest publications" and features a news item: "Active and Healthy Living in the Digital World" with the sub-heading "Join the Webinar - IN-4-AHA: Innovation scale-up process and model for the AHA field (9 November, 13.00 CET)". The text below the sub-heading reads: "The IN-4-AHA consortium invites you to take part of the fourth and final workshop that is targeted to the scaling up process of new innovative...". At the bottom, there is a profile picture of a man and the text "27 October 2022 - updated 6 days ago", which is circled in red.

Some key messages

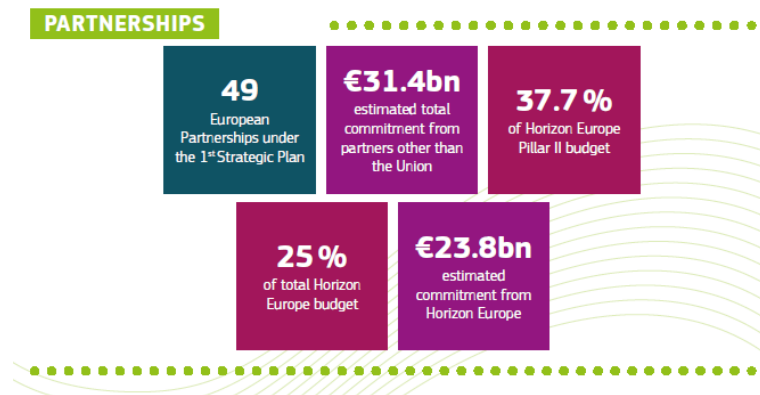

- Participation in European Partnerships is definitely NOT a low hanging fruit
- Question:
- Are there any low or at least lower hanging fruits?
- One good opportunity like this had a deadline only yesterday:
- Hop-On facility (HORIZON-WIDERA-2022-ACCESS-07-01)
- Eager to learn the statistics for participation
- Was exactly the ‘dream’ of any proposer:

On the other hand...

- European Partnerships need a strategy from the side of the organisations intending to get involved to them
- They need all three: good, deep and broad information on the background, the politics, the policies
- This is not something one may cope with in a weekend or in a month
- The building of many partnerships dates back to several years before
- This is NOT a reason to give up at all!
- It is a good reason to intensify efforts
- Remember what we mentioned for leaving the comfort zone?
